<Reason for revisions on the full-year earnings forecast>

Revenue is expected to fall below the previous forecast due to decelerated construction machinery demand in developed countries and further decrease of such demand in emerging countries. Operating profit is expected to be significantly lower than the previous forecast by incorporating the costs associated with the business and cost structural reform in addition to the negative impact of revenue decrease. Accordingly, we also revised income before income taxes and net income attributable to owners of the parent company.

The assumed foreign exchange rates for the results after the third quarter are ¥120 for one US dollar, ¥130 for one euro and ¥19.0 for one Chinese yuan.
