

Value Creation Model

The Hitachi Construction Machinery Group will utilize digital technology in the value chain businesses that it has focused on to date. We will also further enhance the solutions that we provide every time we have contact with our customers. By doing so, we aim to maximize our social and environmental value.

